

DRY LEADERS DENY 'PERNICIOUS LOBBY'

Anti-Saloon League Says
Blaine's Bill Will Have to be Model One.

(By Associated Press.)

Madison.—The Anti-Saloon league intimates that there were reasons behind the veto of the Matheson prohibition enforcement bill by Governor Blaine, that may be brought to light in his new bill to be brought into the legislature in a statement made public Thursday.

The statement says "that there are numerous peculiar circumstances connected with the veto of Blaine's veto and the attitude of his appointees toward the Matheson bill on which we forbear comment until we shall have had a chance to study the model enforcement bill which the logic of the situation demands that the governor have introduced."

Look for Morris Features.
Reference is made indirectly to the support given by Commissioner Smith to the Morris, substitute to the Matheson bill which the league opposed and finally defeated. It is expected that features of that measure will be looked for in the new bill to be introduced by the governor in both houses.

In speaking of the governor's message the statement says that "the position of the Anti-Saloon league is unchanged. We were for the Matheson bill; we are still for the Matheson bill; we believe it the best bill which could have been passed through this legislature."

"Governor Blaine says that the Matheson bill was forced through by the activities of a 'pernicious lobby.' The only lobby which the drys had was the thousands of letters which came from the constituents back home. We can hardly agree with him in calling these average citizens pernicious lobbyists."

Vote Own Constitutions.
"Aquarone 59 purp sicutus et aug. men who have stood pat at all times for the Matheson bill are not men whose votes are swayed by lobbyists. They were voting their own convictions."

"More of them were Blaine men than belonged to any other faction. Conspicuous among them were William Olson, who is now a lobbyist, backed for speaker; C. E. Hanson, J. C. Hanson, W. F. Ploetz, and C. E. Hanson, J. C. Hanson, W. F. Ploetz, Turtley, who represents the governor's own assembly district."

In the senate were such men as Henry Huber, M. J. Severson, Al C. Anderson, George Staunmayer, the governor's floor leaders.

"Whatever lobby was done at the capitol was done by members talking to fellow members. If the governor wishes to characterize such activity as 'pernicious lobbying' then we disagree with him."

"We believe that he has misjudged the calibre of the men and that common courtesy to them would have dictated that he should not administer his rebuke in so public a manner."

First Chinese Girl to Be Given Government Job

Canton.—Perhaps as an outcome of a movement started early this year by Chinese women's organizations in Canton to open avenues of employment hitherto closed to women, the National Assembly of the Southern Government has given a job to a girl. This is a clerkship and the first in Canton, if not in all China, to be given to a woman. Miss So Kan, the applicant, has been given a post in connection with publication of parliamentary records. In response to action taken by Chinese women's clubs the Canton-Samsue Railway has stationed a plan to employ girls, while the Canton Telephone Company also is planning to include women in its working staff.

Bouck White's French Bride Tells of Her Blasted Romance

(Special to the Gazette.)

Madison, N. Y.—A story of hesitancy, hope and then blasted dreams is told by Mrs. Andree Emilie Simon White, young French girl bride who has begun action to annul her marriage to ex-Rev. Bouck White, radical preacher.

Now he has asked that a mass meeting of the people of Marlboro be held and if they vote that he is an "undesirable citizen" he will get out of his house on the top of Marlboro mountain, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and apply a coat of carbolic acid, tar and feathers. A few days later other neighbors stoned him out of the village near his home.

White has served a jail sentence for burning the American flag. He is nationally known as a radical.

Mrs. White tells the story of her courtship and married life, hampered by her lack of English and the reporter's lack of French. She talks with a charming accent, but has not learned enough English to tell a connected story. She says:

"I was born in the Latin quarter of Paris, November 21, 1890. My father, Marcel Simon, is a well-known chemist. I grew up in the Latin quarter of Paris, February 1, 1921, there was a Mardi Gras festival in the quarter for all of Paris and all its visitors from foreign countries. One day I was walking down a crowded street, in the company of a friend, Mrs. Carmen Levy. As we passed the Palais Royale I was accidentally jostled by a man.

"He raised his hat and apologized. As is customary at Mardi Gras time, we spoke to him. Mrs. Levy first, and then she introduced him to me. He asked if he could not come and visit me. When he called my name I was very much impressed with him because he was such a good talker. He came again three days later, and then proposed to me. When I told my parents of his proposal they told me that I accept. So I did."

Wanted Immediate Marriage.
"Mr. White wanted an immediate marriage, but my parents suggested waiting two weeks. In the interval between the engagement and marriage, he constantly called at my house, and while there came to tell the reasons that brought him to France."

"He said he was in France to organize parties of Americans to tour the battlefields. I believed him when he told me that, but since then I have believed that he has told me. Life is not sincere in anything, not even in his radicalism, I think. He is a hypocrite."

"Another thing he told me was that he represented a New York group. In this period he introduced me to a number of his American friends in Paris. He also told me he thought the war was terrible—that all wars were terrible. He couldn't understand why America had gone into the war or why France had entered it. My marriage was not a dream—it was a nightmare. It took place in the

DROPS TO WHITEWATER

(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Edgerton, Wis.—Whitewater put the skills under the Trailers at Athletic park Wednesday and handed them their first defeat of the season, 8 to 1. The locals apparently had an off day as they backed Melzer in poor shape both in fielding and throwing. Melzer pitched as good a game as his opponent on the mound, but the Quakers supported Finley in errorless style. The visitors were a fast bunch of ball players and were ready to take advantage of every slip made by their opponents.

With regard to White's political and social views, she said he once predicted a great revolution in the United States in a few years, and said he expected to be one of its leaders. "I think he is mentally unbalanced," said Mrs. White. "White's cruel treatment of the girl finally became so generally known that the neighbors, who hated White because of his radical utterances, treated him to the tar cast."

FEDERAL AGENTS CLEAN UP CITY

The photographer probably never saw an art gallery other than a burlesque nickel-slot machine.

Many of the prints came from France. While the rules of the A. B. F. prohibited the bringing back of the French photographs which were circulated freely in the army concentration centers, thousands of the "gay Paris" photos slipped through the inspection forces at the ocean ports. This stimulated the "postal art studios" in the United States. As fast as the postal inspectors made raids and arrests to stop the sale, new ones sprang up to be supplied prints and negatives from various cities. Negatives and prints are exchanged and "art sets" made up to be shipped out by express.

Law Is Clear
The producers generally err in the belief they can make the shipments by express, and escape the federal law. They fear the use of the mails but take a chance on the express. The shipping of such photographs through the express is both a violation of the federal and state laws. The sale within a state is prohibited by state statutes and the interstate commerce commission has full authority to prosecute the state authority to prosecute, the state authorities.

This authority comes from the jurisdiction from the constitution giving the government the right to make uniform laws relating to interstate shipment. This has been the foundation for an extension of laws such as the Mann act and the section

CANVASSERS READY FOR ONE-DAY DRIVE

Entire City to be Covered Friday by Chinese Stamp Sales Forces.

School children are ready for Friday's city-wide canvass for the sale of Chinese stamps. Rather than the usual canvass over the period of a week, efforts are to be made to cover the entire city Friday. Stamps have been obtained from headquarters at Madison, several thousand, and are being distributed to each of the several grade schools here for sale by the older pupils.

Districts have been assigned the schools by the Parent-Teachers' association and the drive is to be completed by one o'clock. It is planned to send the children out to cover definitely assigned blocks so there will be no over-lapping. The stamps are to be sold by the children, and the money will be turned over to the Chinese Relief fund.

Stamps 2 Cents Each.

More stamps are available at the Chamber of Commerce, which has been designated as headquarters for the drive. Each citizen will be asked to buy a book of at least 10 stamps, at 2 cents each, or 50 cents. Many are expected to buy the dollar book. The slogan is "Three cents will save a life one day."

Much has been written of the famine conditions in China. The feeling is expressed generally that it has been a piece of money which has helped to cause it, it is in China today. For that reason, the committee predicts but little difficulty in disposing of thousands of the stamps. The stickers are to be used on the stamps, rather than the usual use of the Red Cross Christmas stamps.

Work in County.

The work in Janesville was initiated by the Madison Missionary organization of the city at the request of Rev. J. A. Melrose, county chairman of the Chinese Relief fund. The Parent-Teachers' association, representatives of the Chinese Relief fund, collected a large sum, according to Rev. Mr. Melrose. He says Evansville, Edgerton and Milton Junction are working on plans.

Children in State Homes are Isolated

Madison.—Relatives have a harmful influence on dependent children kept in charitable institutions or in the custody of the state. This is the conclusion reached by a committee of the Wisconsin State Board of Charities, which has been studying the problem of the children in state homes. The committee has found that the children are often isolated from their families and friends, and that this isolation is harmful to their development. The committee has recommended that the children be placed in family homes, where they can receive the love and attention of their families.

Without supervision of their correspondence, the children would often receive letters that are filled with bad language and attempts to influence them into doing acts that would be harmful to their character. The committee has recommended that the correspondence of the children be supervised by the state board of charities.

AT THE THEATRES

If you haven't seen "Dinty" at the Apollo, why, be sure and go Thursday night. You'll miss a movie really worthy of your time and money if you don't.

Carefully houses have welcomed the film since Monday, and it will be shown for the last time Thursday. You are missing something if you fail to jump over the barrier of "Dinty Sullivan" with his million freckles and quick wit. Wesley Barry is the juvenile wonder. In addition to being a star at comedy, he can act, or at least the director can make him act.

There are exceptionally clever ideas in "Dinty." All three of the main juvenile characters are good. You won't be able to suppress a giggle at the scene where the little negro's face when they put the watermelon before him.

The scenes are laid in San Francisco and most of them were taken in the city. The scenes are laid in San Francisco and most of them were taken in the city. The scenes are laid in San Francisco and most of them were taken in the city.

Japan; the Eternal Question in Diplomacy.

Will we have war with Japan? There are many people who believe we will soon. Possibly if we think hard enough about it and along those lines and everybody is afraid there will be war we may have war.

Then there are many people in the United States who think Japan is being wronged in our attitude toward her citizens here in the United States, notably in California.

Herbert Spencer said to the Japs a long time ago that they could never afford to assimilate. Every Jap who lives in California and has taken the oath of allegiance to the United States, is subject to call of the Mikado to service and a thousand years of religious training makes him a Jap no matter to what country he has gone or how many generations he has been away from Japan.

The editor of the Gazette will discuss the Japanese question in a series of articles beginning Saturday—the reasons why the Japs is a Jap and some other phases which he hoped will be interesting to Gazette readers.

The Rev. Charles E. Ewing writing to the editor in response to a request for a letter on the Japanese training makes him a story of the true Jap as he is known there would only fan the flames of war in the hearts of Americans. Apparently the Japs is not well liked here. Mr. Ewing will write an article on this phase of the question later.

Remember, in the Gazette Saturday there will be many interesting features.

EAST SIDE BANKERS VICTORIOUS, 16-13; PLAN SECOND PICNIC

So successful was the picnic of the Janesville banks at Koshkonong, Wednesday afternoon, on the occasion of the first half holiday of the summer that it is thought probable another one will be held next month. With the exception of a few who overcame their absence which were accepted by the committee, every one of the officers and bank employees was present. The chief entertainment was the clash of the two nine representing the Bower City-Rock County banks and the Merchants-First National banks in an indoor baseball. The Bank of Southern Wisconsin furnished the corps of umpires. In spite of their large force from which to select their team, the west side were baffled by the team which scored off the aggregation from the east and went down to defeat, 16-13. Even a ninth inning rally, led by Harry Haggart, in which the westers scored five runs, failed to overcome the lead of their opponents.

Joseph Nolan and Margaret Owen of the Merchants' bank won the prize.

CLAUSON GETS ONE YEAR IN COUNTY JAIL

Continued from page 1. For another machine and a check for $150. Clauson is attempting to trade in the latter car. Cochran, in the meantime, had left, telling Clauson he was going down the street to get a shave. He has not been seen since.

Police say Clauson has a criminal record. He was in several mix-ups at Stoughton, according to the police, who say he served two or three years in the state prison at Waushara for stealing. His picture is in the local police "rogue's gallery," according to Chief Morrissey.

Judge Maxfield said he had been informed by the district attorney that Clauson had no record. According to information of Mr. Dunwiddie, Clauson claims he was intoxicated that night that he could remember nothing from the time he was awakened from sleeping in a shack near the Five Points by railroad men and ordered out, until he was on his way to Chicago with Cochran.

Allegation of Driving. Clauson claimed to the district attorney that he did not even know how to drive a car. He said he had a man in South Chicago teach him how at the time he traded in the last car. It was because of his unfamiliarity with driving, he claims, that he stripped the gears on the second car near Highland Park, which caused him to attempt to make another trade. Cochran, a former employee of the Samson plant, here is the youth who was arrested with Edward Wendel for auto stealing in Racine, is declared.

Wendel later posed in Chicago as an "oil king," claiming he had just met his father after many years and that the latter had turned over to him all his interests in a big oil field in Texas. This story after Wendel had jumped bail $100 hall here after he had been arraigned for scaling carburetors at the Samson plant.

Kiwanians to Frolic at Lake

Kiwanians had a busy noon day session, Thursday, transacting many important business matters at the first meeting following the charter presentation. James Wise, manager of the Brighthouse-Hillman Lumber company of Janesville, attended his last Kiwanian meeting before departing for Chicago, where he will be entering business for himself. Plans for the big picnic at the Highland, Delavan Lake, next Thursday, were discussed. H. L. Blackman is chairman of arrangements for the affair which is the outcome of an attendance contest of two teams formed from the club membership. The losing team, the "Jenny" will entertain the "Mutts." Because of the failure of all last year as a picnic, a member of the "Jenny," the "Mutts" have compromised on an indoor baseball game. There will be swimming contests and dancing in the evening following a dinner at the hotel. The ladies with their wives will go by auto, leaving the court house at 2 o'clock. The cars will be decorated with Kiwanian emblems.

Cars were lined up along the Railroad-Jackson street highway Tuesday night following a collision between a car driven by L. K. Crissey, Janesville, and a Beloit car. No one was hurt and the damage to both cars was not slight. The Beloit car was stalled on the bridge just above the Keeley farm, without any lights. FARMERS' INTEREST CENTERS ON LIME

Glassco Advised to Spend Nearly Half of Time Promoting Work.

Limestone demonstrations and community picnics are the big interests among Rock county farmers at the present time.

The work of increasing the use of limestone to correct soil acidity was detailed as one of the most important phases of work for the county agent during the time meeting of the county board agriculture committee and the executive committee of the Farm Bureau. This is to be the main work undertaken this year.

The county agent was advised to devote from 25 to 40 per cent of his time furthering the use of limestone.

Demonstration Success. There were 75 farmers attending the demonstration at the farm of Orville Steele, three miles west of Evansville, Wednesday afternoon. Other similar demonstrations are to be held in other townships this summer, to give practical information of the methods used and how to increase crop acreage.

Griffith Richards, sales expert from Madison, gave an excellent lecture on the value of lime. The lecture, together with the demonstration, which all could see plainly, convinced the farmers present of the benefits derived. Forty tons of crushed lime were applied to 20 acres of sweet clover. On one side of the field four tons to an acre were applied. Here heavy and healthy stand of clover was obtained. A strip in the middle was not limed. On this strip there was a sign of growth. A third strip was limed with one and a half tons to the acre, which produced a fair stand. The lime was applied by Mr. Steele, who is winter in "lawson" which had been seeded in the spring of 1920 with barley and clover.

Test at Miles Farm. After viewing the Steele farm field, the farmers went to the farm of W. G. Miles, where two tons of lime per acre were applied to a field which was depleted in fertility. Where lime was applied a good stand of clover is the result. In each instance the unfertilized section of the land failed to produce. Four tons of lime to an acre was the policy favored by the farmers as the result of this demonstration. W. S. Halliday, Waushara, took photographs of the demonstration.

REVISED SEAMEN'S BILL IS FAVORED

Washington.—Vessels on the Great Lakes making runs of six hours or less a day would be exempt from the provisions of the La Follette seamen's act under a bill by Representative C. C. Quiner, where the minimum wage is reported favorably Thursday by the house merchant marine committee. It would fix the lake navigation season as from May 1 to October 15, instead of May 15 to September 15. It would set a minimum wage for all persons on seamen on boats operating 12 hours or less a day, and 2 watches, except for firemen, when runs are 12 to 16 hours a day. Ships in operation more than 16 out of each 24 hours would be required to have three shifts for their entire crews. The minimum requirement for able bodied seamen for each vessel is reduced from 65 to 40 per cent of deck crews. Another provision of the bill permits certificated life boat men to man life rafts.

THE GIRL WHO HAD NO CHANCE

By Marion Rubincam

CHAPTER XLVIII.
IDEAL TROUBLE.
As Ruth thought over this new idea, she found almost as though she should stay. Surely Myra could not be in love with Tim—surely there would not be any more of a whole attitude toward this man was a possession—let any one try to get him away and they'll see," she had said, roused for the only time from her general indifference.

Surely Tim would never be happy with Myra, not with this new Myra—this girl who already was growing stout and mature in figure, whose thought was always for herself. Tim was made of such stuff.

Ruth remembered the long evenings reading books at home, the long talks when they tramped together on crisp autumn Sundays, Tim's ideas on life, his ambitions, his sensitiveness, his unselfish optimism. Ruth looked around the little living room. Myra had covered the tables with all the cheap magazines which, with the theatrical papers Gaby took, made up the literary wealth of the house. "Would this sort of thing satisfy Tim?"

In a sudden burst of confidence, she told this to Gaby. Often she walked over to the theater and home with the literary wealth of the house, she did her great dark eyes, her shining black hair and the glow of her lovely skin, her smartly clad little figure, attracted much attention as she walked on the street. Ruth liked to see the passerby state in admiration at her stunning companion.

"Of course they won't be happy," Gaby said. "I'd like to see you take him away from this. She's been horrid to you and it would do her good not to get what she wants, for a change. But I should hate to see you marry Tim. He doesn't deserve you."

"You stick around," she went on stammering. "There are lots of nice men in New York, though you mightn't think so to look at them on the streets. You'll make a hit, too, you're so sweet and sincere."

"But I have no money," she said. "I will take what I can get, and I want to send money home."

"Better that! They'll manage. You find any job that will pay you for night school. It's hard work, but you can do it for a year or so until you have learned a profession. Or come and live with us, as I said before."

"But I'll do it," Ruth decided suddenly. "I'll get there sometime, only it will take longer. I'll try the stores tomorrow for a place. I don't want you to think I'm doing it to take Tim from him. No, there's no money in New York, though you mightn't think so to look at them on the streets. You'll make a hit, too, you're so sweet and sincere."

Women Will Fight to Gain Full Rights

[RE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison—Without mincing words, the legislature was plainly informed by women's organizations Tuesday that the women intend to fight for issue out at the polls if laws they requested would not be acted upon favorably during this session.

A rebuke was delivered to members of the senate, who they claimed had been pledged to support a bill granting women equal rights, and who, they allege, broke their promise and voted for the Bird substitute cutting out the clause granting equality in making contracts. Twenty senators were accused of having broken faith.

The assembly was informed that the women expected it to return the bill to the upper house for concurrence with the contract clause restored.

A second bill which is likely to cause members of the lower house some solemn consideration, in view of the demands of women's organizations, is the judiciary committee bill specifically exempting women from jury duty, which comes Thursday.

The assembly has twice refused to specifically include women for jury service, on the ground no political party would support it. It was not until the assembly voted under the 19th amendment but a heavy obligation from which many men in different professions were excused.

Should the women insist on their right to serve on juries, an interesting contest is likely to develop in the assembly.

Answers to Inquiries
"Rose"—I didn't answer you on the date you asked because all letters have to wait their turn in our column, and your turn has only come now. In short, but it can't be helped. You should surely tell your sister, with whom you have made your home, that you are in love and the young man should go to her and talk things over with her—she owes that to you and you owe it to the sister who has mothered you. Besides, Rose, you are too young to marry for a while. Please tell him he must wait a little before asking you to assume the care of a household, dear.

"Plinky"—You'd better take it for granted that your friend loves this other girl and write him that you are glad for his happiness—he was trying to "break the news" to you, he will jump at the chance to tell you all about it—if not, he will doubtless set you right by saying that he has no such feelings for the other girl. Of course, if you were actually engaged, you might have a right to ask him point blank if you are to understand that he wishes to break your engagement since he has found this other girl.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do?" department will be answered in this column in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the questions.

Answers to Inquiries
"Rose"—I didn't answer you on the date you asked because all letters have to wait their turn in our column, and your turn has only come now. In short, but it can't be helped. You should surely tell your sister, with whom you have made your home, that you are in love and the young man should go to her and talk things over with her—she owes that to you and you owe it to the sister who has mothered you. Besides, Rose, you are too young to marry for a while. Please tell him he must wait a little before asking you to assume the care of a household, dear.

"Plinky"—You'd better take it for granted that your friend loves this other girl and write him that you are glad for his happiness—he was trying to "break the news" to you, he will jump at the chance to tell you all about it—if not, he will doubtless set you right by saying that he has no such feelings for the other girl. Of course, if you were actually engaged, you might have a right to ask him point blank if you are to understand that he wishes to break your engagement since he has found this other girl.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do?" department will be answered in this column in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the questions.

The Editor.

If you think you might grow to love him, tell him so; tell him that you cannot marry him now, but that you want his friendship and that you hope to grow to care for him as he cares for you. If he wants you badly enough, he will wait for you, court you and strive to win your love.

Motor Girl Starts West

Miss Olga Crane Grover of Boston.

Miss Olga Grover, a young Boston girl, is motoring alone from Boston to California. This photograph of her was taken in front of the White House, where she called to see the president. She also called to see her former governor, the present vice president. She left Boston May 15 and expects to arrive in California in June. Her route from Washington will be over the Lincoln Highway to Omaha, Neb.

where are our policemen? Can it be that their manhood is so far gone that they can stand and listen to this kind of talk, argue a while and then walk away? This is not a supposition. I have seen this. There are certain men who run this street when they are full of moonshine. The officers of the law seem to be afraid to arrest them. I wonder if we could not have a real policeman on this beat at night? If some fellow stole a car, he would be given not less than five years. But let some man peddle this moonshine-killing moonshine and we all know what he will get—a small fine or something like 20 days. Why is the law so lenient with these law breakers? This is the reason the moonshine salesmen are so brazen about their illicit business; they know the law will do nothing. They have no conscience. They must get a living some way, so why not the easy way? Will the decent people of Jacksonville please notice that little children are trying to sleep under hearing distance of this rotten, profane talk? We can't all afford to live on the hill in our noise proof houses. The conditions on this street are rotten, an insult to every decent citizen. Cannot something be done?

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:
With some one please tell me why the decent, law-abiding residents on Academy street should be compelled to listen night after night to the foul-mouthed, moonshine-quizzing, so-called men? We are hearing so much talk about a bigger and better Jacksonville. The street traveled by every one who comes into our city would be a good place to begin. Any man coming to Jacksonville, intending to locate here, and being greeted with the filthy talk that I heard a so-called man spew forth on the last Sabbath afternoon, would certainly hesitate before bringing his family here to be brought up under such conditions. Everyone knows that whiskey is being sold in this town. If these men must drink this brewer, please set aside a part of the town for them and label it correctly, so that the decent people won't have to listen to their filthy language.

We residents pay exorbitant rentals, and it seems to me to be entirely correct, so that the decent people won't have to listen to their filthy language. Another thing I would like to know is

Jack Frets Under Enforced Rest - Carp Amazes Partners

BREAKS OUT AND RUNS SIX MILES ON OPEN ROAD

Atlantic City, N. J.—Jack Dempsey Thursday began to show indications of cracking under the spell of his enforced four days of idleness. The heavyweight champion is becoming more fractious because of the inactivity at his camp and is eager to resume his conditioning grind on Saturday, which will be continued without further interruption until he finishes training for the defense of his title against Georges Carpentier at Jersey City, July 2.

Although Jack Kearns, his manager, placed his training quarters under lock and key before he departed for New York, Dempsey could not resist the temptation to go on the road Wednesday. He left camp secretly, returning forty minutes later dripping with perspiration. He covered between five and six miles.

Dempsey is showing a marked aversion towards the numerous visitors at his camp. Wednesday morning he was known to have come out. Dempsey drove away in his automobile and did not return until they were gone.

A friend asked him Wednesday if he would knock out Carpentier. "I have a hunch that I will," he replied, laughing. "And if I'm feeling good that day, the fight will be over inside of four rounds."

Big Track Year Predicted Here

Janesville is going to have a big season on the harness track this year, according to the opinion of the director of speed for the Janesville park association. He stated Wednesday that the local track will have more entries than any other park in the middle west, especially Madison or Monroe.

Artie Frost of Monroe shipped out his stable of eight horses the other day to Berea, Ohio, where he has three more. Frost's horses are indications are that Mr. Frost will do some riding "up in front."

The stable is composed of: Hanley B. Hanley, Earl, Baron Antell and Babe, a two-year-old owned by T. A. Streich of Oshkosh; Miss Anita Kibbel, owned by J. A. McQuaid of Koscob; Francis Foch, owned by J. C. and W. M. of Madison; and the best Queen, owned by F. B. Luchsing, of Monroe.

Sing Praises for Bill Lathrop

"Smiling Bill" Lathrop of the Janesville Tractors has won the hearts of the fans of the Tri-City league and especially those of Edgerton whose team he placed in first place Sunday by twirling a four hit game. A Madisonian sports writer says of "Bill Lathrop pitched the game for Edgerton. Now this Lathrop is the best ball pitcher in the west in semi-pro ball. He is a Babe Ruth with the arm. He has the finest control of the arm in the west. He can pitch the curve, the slider, the fast ball and can mix them up. It's worth the price of admission to see him on the mound."

BASEBALL QUERIES

Questions of rules came up in the city league game Wednesday night. It will be the practice of the Gazette to answer these through its sporting columns as they arise. The one which caused the greatest argument was with regard to a man's coming home on a passed ball from third. Rule 54, Sec. 4 reads:

"The base-runner shall be entitled without liability to be put out to advance a base in the following cases: if a ball delivered by the pitcher pass the catcher and touch any fence or building within 50 feet of the home base."

In the matter of sacrificing hits, one player claimed a sacrifice because he was out on a batted ball and advanced a base runner. This player then claimed that he had no intention of sacrificing himself. The rule specifically states that nothing but a bunt that advances a runner already on base can possibly be a sacrifice hit and only a fly ball caught or that should have been caught and was not because of error upon which fly-out or error a runner scores can be a sacrifice fly. There must be no out or one out at the time of execution.

One of the managers also argued about changing his batting order after the game has started. The rules declare that the batting order must be delivered to the umpire before the game and must be followed throughout, and where there is a substitute he must be inserted in the place of a retiring player.

Johnson weakened in the eighth, but Washington pounded Mays hard for an 8 to 7 win from Cleveland.

RIPON TENNIS TEAM FORFEITS TO MILTON

[By Gazette Correspondent.] Milton—Although a contract had been signed and all arrangements made for a tennis match here Wednesday afternoon between Ripon and Milton, the Riponites failed to put in an appearance. Milton students and townspeople, who were anxious to see Daland in action against Clemens, singles champion of the Little Five conference, were away from the courts disappointed at the non-arrival of the other team.

"I don't know why they didn't carry out their agreement," Captain Daland of Milton said Wednesday night. "Anyway, there's a little forfeit coming to us. For I have a contract signed by Coach Olson of Ripon calling for a match here on this date. I was disappointed in not being able to get a chance to compete against Clemens for the state interscholastic championship."

WOODMEN BALL CLUB NOW THE WHITE SOX

Upon the disbanding of the Woodmen of the World baseball team, the members were reorganized Wednesday night into the West Side White Sox. C. O. Johnson is manager and Otto Thomas captain. William Thomas was chosen secretary-treasurer. The outfit wants games with local or out of town teams. Johnson can be found at Rock county phone, Red 515; Thomas at Bell 2332.

Hitting two pitchers with a Big Bertha barrage, the Bake-Rites knocked all kinds of holes through the Moose in the city league Wednesday night for a 19 to 2 victory. Manager Zigler called his outfit off the field in disgust in the last half of the sixth.

The game opened with the outlook good for a close contest but the doughboys let loose in the second for 13 runs on eight hits and four errors. In that second agony stanza, 15 men faced Schuman before the curtain was rung down.

All the Moose could do rather off the deliveries of Ted Huger were four hits and two runs, both unearned. Despite all they could do in changing their lineup until it looked like a Chinese puzzle, the Moose were unable to get anywhere farther than putting one man on second after the third.

The box score:

RED WANTS GROH TO STAY ON TEAM

Cincinnati—Members of the Cincinnati National League team are begging the management not to trade Henry Groh, holdout third baseman, who signed a Red contract Wednesday, and they met Groh today to urge him to change his mind about refusing to play with the Reds. Groh may be traded to New York for several players and money.

Yank Tennis Players to Enter London Meet

London—American tennis players competing in the world's championship hard court tournament in St. Cloud, France, will come to London and will enter the open tennis tournaments to be held at Beckenham June 6-11 and at Roehampton, June 12-15, said the London Times. They include Wm. Tilden, J. D. E. Jones, Arnold W. Jones, Mrs. Mollie Burdett Malory and Miss Edith Sigourney.

Sluggers In Gotham Worry Pitching Staffs

New York—The lot of the major league pitcher is rigorous. For American league hurlers who visit New York in the next month it promises to be doubly hazardous. Sluggers of both leagues in the past month have made the Polo grounds the home run capital of the majors. Thursday Babe Ruth and the Yankees were home again for an extended stay.

Knights of Columbus—Crawley, Wolf, C. Cassidy, Campton, Brown, Kober, Milton, Thorpe, Fleming, E. Clark, Canary, Dolman, Block, Ryan and Townsend.

Bake-Rites—Anderson, Vertrees, C. Dick, Raubacher, Grasselli, Cullis, Mantel, Fullerman, Pierson, Heger, Cullen and Graf.

SPORTING BRIEFS

Town City—Frank Shimek of Iowa City, was elected captain of the University of Iowa baseball and Edgar P. Hoffman of Iola Grove, captain of the track team.

Chicago—Eddie Murphy, pinch hitter, was released by the White Sox to Cleveland, and Russell Pence, a young pitcher, quit.

Annapolis—Charles O. Humphreys of Pennsylvania, has been elected captain of Navy's baseball team for next season to succeed Harlow M. Pino of Minnesota, who was graduated Thursday. Humphreys has been first baseman for the last two years.

Milton Plays Ripon in Return Thursday

[By Gazette Correspondent.] Milton—What promises to be one of the hardest fought baseball games of the season for Milton college will be played Thursday, when Ripon comes here for the first time in years. Though baseball is a new sport at the northern college this spring, Coach Olson has succeeded in turning out a fairly good team that has already taken the measure of Milton once.

Following the contest Thursday, only two more games—one with Northwestern and the other with the Alumni—will remain on the Milton schedule.

If mirrors portrayed us as others see us we wouldn't use them.

HARDING ACTS TO LOWER RAIL RATES

President Starts Precedent, Goes Direct to Commerce Commission.

Washington.—President Harding has taken his first important step toward solving the railway problem. He has in effect asked the interstate commerce commission to reduce freight rates. He didn't do so directly—he managed the thing tactfully and diplomatically. For a president isn't supposed to ask the interstate commerce commission which is a quasi-judicial body to reduce freight rates. He had some informal conferences with members of the interstate commerce commission and was severely criticized for trying to influence the commission to revise rates.

President Harding adopted a much more direct and even bolder course which unquestionably will establish a precedent and brush aside for all times the technical criticism that a president can't communicate with the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Harding walked to the interstate commerce commission building and told the members of the commission that he recognized that the commission is the rate-making agent of congress and that inasmuch as he had the official right to communicate to congress any message he pleased, he therefore felt free to communicate directly with the agent of congress.

With that delicate question of right off his mind, Mr. Harding entered into a general discussion with the commission on the subject of rates, making delicate inquiry as to the progress the commission was making on the subject and expressing his own solicitude over certain classes of rates. He mentioned particularly the rate on fruit carrying which is so much a subject of complaint in the west. He was much pleased to learn that the commission was endeavoring to bring about a revision of rates and that the commission was proceeding on a plan whereby the railroads would voluntarily reduce their rates on certain commodities where obviously the rate was more than the traffic could bear.

Mr. Harding left the commission with a feeling that he had secured great credit of significance. He spoke of his desire to be helpful and to remain in closer touch with the work the commission is doing.

No Casual Visit. Now the visit of Mr. Harding was no casual affair, accidentally brought about. It was deliberately thought out as a means of convincing the country that President Harding recognized the necessity of lower freight rates and that he hoped the carriers would see the desirability of meeting public opinion and accepting economies in other directions. The whole subject was discussed at the cabinet meeting on Tuesday after which it was announced that the president would do something about rates the very next day. The visit to the commission was planned by Mr. Harding not only after consultation with the cabinet but after it became known here also that the president would hand down a decision cutting the price of certain classes of labor and eliminating an estimated cost of $400,000,000 a year in wages.

Time to Act. It was in the judgment of Mr. Harding the psychological time to act. With wages going down, the public has been expecting freight rates to go down. Mr. Harding caught a chance to emphasize the necessity of the two steps being taken as close together as possible not merely to hasten a return to normalcy but to console the laboring classes who will be accepting wage reductions with the knowledge that the railroads will be obliged to reduce freight rates, too. Some labor leaders have insisted that the men would not object to wage decreases if accompanied by a reduction in freight rates which in turn would be reflected in a revision downward of the cost of living.

Mr. Harding consulted Senator Cummings, chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce, and James Davis, who is director general of railroads, handling all the railroads. Steps will soon be taken to pay the roads large sums of money owed them by the government and to make it easier for them to pay some of their debts.

Blazes Trail Alone. The railroads aren't eager to reduce freight rates. They claim it

TAKES ONLY TWO WEEKS TO HATCH THESE 12 CHICKENS

The hen belonging to Mrs. William Collins, 403 South Washington street, hatched some chickens in two weeks, one week less time than usually required. Mrs. Collins set the hen on May 29 and according to the usual length of time she hatched them on June 5, but 10, and behold, last Sunday they were out of the hot weather and came out for air. And they were perfectly normal, too, said Mrs. Collins, all 12 of them.

The hen will doubtless be in demand now for hatching contests. Although she herself had settled down to a three weeks' sit, and was probably surprised Sunday she is now too busy taking care of the family to miss the week's rest to which she was entitled.

It would still further decrease their already small earnings. But the president takes the view that the present rates are more than the traffic can bear and that if the rates are revised there will be more business for the railroads in the aggregate than is possible now. Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission, wrote several letters a few months ago insisting that rates could not be reduced. Senator Cummings has seemed to think rates couldn't go down. Nevertheless Mr. Harding believes the railroads will be helped if rates are lowered. The cabinet shares that opinion, and Mr. Harding has gone ahead blazing the trail almost alone, as is usually the case with an executive who is trying to clear the ship of state in an economic problem which requires readjustments in revenue whether it be of wages or gross income.

IN WISCONSIN

Madison.—Molter Jacobsen, Dodge, was seriously injured when his automobile crashed against the car driven by M. J. Harbst. Miss Jima Christiansen, who was in Jacobsen's car, was slightly injured, while Jelen, his 5-year-old daughter, was thrown over the windshield, landing right side up unhurt, on the radiator.

Barraboo.—The body of Con Donahue, a fisherman who has been missing for several days, was found in the Barraboo river.

Cumberland.—Felix Herzog, 20 years old, was arrested here charged with attacking two girls, 12 and 13 years, sisters, who worked in a meat market operated by him. He is married. Herzog was taken to the county jail at Barron to await trial.

Appleton.—Herbert R. Mundhenke, 22, Rockford, Ill., was elected editor of the Lawrenceville, Lawrence college weekly at the annual meeting of the board of control. Esther Baldwin was elected news editor, Alfred Galpin, editorial writer, and Harry Clark, business manager.

Ripon.—The campaign conducted by the members of the Ripon Hospital association and public-spirited citizens for the establishment of a general hospital here, is meeting with great results. The drive will be continued until the needed funds have been realized. It is expected that at least $20,000 will be subscribed.

Finance Committee Has Work About Completed

Madison.—Passage of the first automobile privilege tax bill will provide all necessary revenue for the coming biennium in addition to the present revenue. Senator R. T. Nye, chairman of the joint finance committee, declares. He said that the committee was keeping appropriations well from exceeding those of two years ago in any marked degree. The finance committee is practically ready to complete its work, as soon as the complicated university and normal school bills can be drawn. Members are now determining how much additional revenue is to be required for operation of the government, and are considering the best method of raising the money.

Speeches and Thoughts. "I always think before I speak." "That's only part of the trick," replied Senator Sorghum. The move district people are keeping you all from thinking after you get through." —Washington Star.

Do This Tonight

Watch the quick effects—see the change in a week

Present this coupon to your dealer. He will give you a delightful ten-day test of a new teeth-cleaning method which millions are employing.

Watch the effects, quick, pleasant and conspicuous. Watch the new luster that comes. In ten days let your mirror tell you the way to pretty teeth.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this method now. You will see and feel the reasons when you make this test.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This viscous coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The old ways of brushing do not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Now you can fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved them effective. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in Pepsodent, the new-day, scientific tooth paste. Millions of people now use it, and the use is fast spreading the world over.

That is the dentifice we urge you to try. Your druggist has a free tube for you. Enjoy its effects for ten days, then judge them for yourself.

Also starch and acids

Modern diet makes other things essential. And those essentials are embodied in this scientific tooth paste.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's agent for neutralizing acids which attack the teeth.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain their film-coats with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The glistening teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. They very escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Watch teeth whiten

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them. A very short test will convince you that this new way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Then you will see and feel and know that Pepsodent is necessary. You will realize that old methods were not right. And this discovery may bring life-long benefits both to you and yours. Present this coupon to your dealer this week. Cut it out now.
